Our 50th Year

Shhhh.

Do you hear it? That's the sound of the kids back at their desks. The other sound you hear? That's probably the babies in their morning story time programs. With September comes a shift in the schedule. Although we won't have as many beach days, it's nice to get back to the school year routine.

There are a lot of new titles -- including, finally, some E-rated titles -- being released this month. You'll notice that, in our newsletter, we don't include the deluxe editions or "early tip-off" versions of the new sports programs. Unless they include additional content that works in circulation, you're better off purchasing multiples of the standard edition. Of course, we can get deluxe titles for you and they will surely work in a programming environment but, for the most part, we suggest that libraries stick with the standard versions with content that will be available to all of your patrons, not the just the first check-out.

I promised a rollout of our new InstaDVD and InstaAudiobook programs this month. I lied. We're fine-tuning a little bit to make ordering new releases as easy as possible. The October Crimson Ink newsletter will have all the details. What I can offer is a blowout sale on cases. If you're using our Small, Medium, Chubby, or Large cases, we are selling them down to the warehouse floor. These cases are available for just $2 each, well below cost. We won't be manufacturing more, so now is the time to stock up. Email, fax, or order via our website. The sale pricing is available at www.crimsoninc.com.

This month brings us to the beginning of our 50th year working with schools and libraries. I'd like to personally thank you all for a great ride. I'm not going anywhere just yet -- except to some fall conferences -- but it's a terrific milestone. There are plenty of choices when it comes to purchasing media for your libraries and curriculum materials for your schools, and we are appreciative that so many of you choose to work with us. We like to think that we serve as more than order takers. We are absolutely certain that we have the best, funniest, smartest librarians and teachers amongst our customers. You have all made our work a lot of fun. Many, many thanks. Oh, and happy September.

Those left behind fell into a violent struggle over the quickly-diminishing resources on their barren home world. From this tumultuous time, two new factions arose. These newcomers were grounded not in the idealism of their predecessors, but on opportunism, resilience, ruthlessness, and above all a commitment to their own survival.
