

As we finish off the last of the Thanksgiving turkey, we find ourselves running smack into the next holiday season. At our house, that means putting up a tree and hanging wreaths. If you celebrate Christmas, Hanukkah, or Kwanzaa, it seems that we will all be making merry during the same week this year. Very tidy, right?

The video game titles have been coming at a quick clip during September, October, and November. This month is a little bit lighter so your library can catch up on anything that you missed.

Per usual, our offices will be closed from December 22 until January 2. Please note that many of the December titles are late-month releases and may not arrive to you before January 1. If your library needs pro forma invoices or any end-of-year accounting, please contact us so that we can provide the paperwork before we close.

Enjoy the holidays and the final weeks of 2016. We'll see you back here in January.
