

School's out for summer! If that's not true in your area, it will be within a week or so. Be prepared for the kids, teens, and parents to descend upon your library. Of course, we do hope they all check out a few books. I'm sure the video game collection will be well-perused. Keep it up-to-date with new releases. The June titles can be found here in our newsletter. Everything can be found on our website.

We are finally getting smart around our office. Instead of doing inventory in the heat of August, we have planned to do our counting in June. As a result, we may not be answering phones or emails in our usual speedy fashion. From June 19 through June 29, we will be counting, organizing, and double checking our tallies. If you have a fiscal year end looming, do contact us during the first half of June so that we can ship your orders or send pro forma invoices.

In addition to our inventory schedule, we have begun our summer schedule. We will be working harder than usual Monday through Thursday, and spending Fridays with our families. Please take that into account if you need to get in touch.

Enjoy the sunshine!

Dirt 4

© 2017 SQUARE ENIX

Dirt 4 challenges you to be fearless by capturing the thrill, emotion and passion of off-road racing. It recreates the heady mix of adrenalin and fear that comes from powering around a blind bend and the rush you feel going for a last ditch overtake when there's not enough room on the final lap of a race. Off-road racing is about more than perfect cornering, it's about heart-pounding, split-section decision making where bravery brings reward. Rated T.
