May 2018 OUR 52ND YEAR

MAY DAY! MAY DAY!

We've got truckloads of videogames coming our way! Who knew that May would bring a flood of new releases? Not us. But there you have it. Check out the May titles here and on our website.

You asked. And asked. And asked. And we listened. Finally. You want to pre-order videogames. We are sticklers for accuracy in ratings, platforms, release dates. So we are splitting the difference. The May new releases have been available on crimsoninc.com for pre-order for almost a month now, identified by a "Coming Soon" graphic. We hope the graphic makes it clear that these titles are not currently in stock. That graphic will change to our usual product image for month of release. Ratings will be updated where necessary. Some release dates will change, but we're going to go with the flow. Soon, we will be adding titles that are 60 days pre-release. Please let me know how this is working for your library.

It was 50 degrees last night at Yankee Stadium. I already have my first case of poison ivy. Oh ya, spring is almost here. Happy May, everyone.
