November 2018 OUR 53RD YEAR

I FEEL LIKE I SHOULD START THIS edition of Crimson Ink with a big "I'm sorry!" The video game publishers have been working overtime. Calling the November release list "lengthy" would be an understatement. In the event that you have already spent down your video game budget, you should look away. Quickly. You will NOT want to see the dozens of new titles that are coming out this month. If you have some budget money left, I'm sorry that there are too many choices this month. Too, too, too many new titles.

If it makes you feel better, I took a peek at the December list and it's nowhere near as robust. These December titles are available on our website for pre-order.

Per usual, I would like to remind those with a library fiscal year end of December 31 to coordinate with us regarding end-of-year shipments. We can provide pro-forma invoices for titles that have had their released dates pushed back. Or we can close out the current year backorders to start fresh in 2019. Either way, please get in touch so that we can be proactive in doing what we can in order to keep your accountants happy.

Happy Thanksgiving to one and all. We are thankful for you! Enjoy your pumpkin pie and those with whom you share it.
