December 2019

OUR 54TH YEAR

HO! HO! HO! We're just getting back into the office after the long Thanksgiving weekend, only to find ourselves up against the annual December holiday break. It's going to be a busy month.

Luckily, the video game publishers are right there with us. The December new release list is short and sweet. January 2020 will bring just a handful of new titles. The timing is perfect. After the deluge of new titles this summer and fall, we can catch our collective breath.

If your library fiscal year is closing at the end of December, please get in touch so that we can help wrap up last minute orders and backordered titles.

Our offices will close at end of day on December 19. That will be our final shipping day of 2019. We will reopen on Monday, January 6. I – and others – will be in and out of the office during that time. Feel free to email or leave a voice mail. We will get back to you as soon as we are able.

All of us here at Thomas Klise/Crimson Multimedia are so very grateful for your business throughout 2019. We know you have choices when it comes to purchasing video games for your library and we appreciate your choosing to work with us. In this competitive economic environment, many small businesses are closing their doors, done in by online retailers and corporate giants. I can't tell you how much it means to our team that our business is growing by leaps and bounds, thanks to the smartest, funniest, kindest and savviest librarians in the field: our customers. Here's to a fabulous 2020!
