December 2020

IT'S BEGINNING TO LOOK A LOT LIKE ...
ummm ... never mind. Some libraries are closing to patrons again. Others are taking it slow and careful. Whatever you're doing, I hope you are safe and healthy.

Video game publishers aren't taking it slow and careful this month. I'm running out of metaphors and similes to describe how many new titles are being released in December. I'll just say "more than enough." In these offerings you will see PlayStation 5 and Xbox X games. The new consoles will be able to play the PlayStation 4 and Xbox One titles but for your patrons on the cutting edge, the new titles are in stock and ready to ship.

Our warehouse will be closed, per usual, between Christmas and the new year so please get your end-of-year orders in early. Shipping will continue right up to December 24.

All of us here at Thomas Klise/Crimson Multimedia wish you and your families a very happy holiday season. It's been a strange year, for sure, but having a supportive community of customers and co-workers has made the difficult moments a bit easier to take.

Best wishes for happy holidays and a lovely new year.
