May 2024 OUR 58TH YEAR

MAY DAY! MAY DAY! We have come through another winter and now here we are, cutting the grass in the northeast. Life is sunny.

Along with the May flowers, we have May video games. A quick look at the new release list tells me that most of these titles will be released toward the end of the month so you have time to wipe down the shelves before we fill them up again. Please order early, though, so we can ship to you as soon as the titles become available.

If you have been waiting patiently for our new website reveal, well welcome to the club. I've been impatient but we won't launch until we know that everything will run smoothly. Soon, I tell myself. Soon.

Enjoy the sunny days.

SEA OF STARS
© 2024 U&I Entertainment

Continuing on the Sabotage journey of developing games that blend retro aesthetics and modern game design, invigorated and motivated by The Messenger’s overwhelmingly positive response, it was time for the real, big challenge. To make a turn-based RPG that would pay homage to the greats of the 90’s, while bringing enough novelty to be its own thing. All of our games taking place in a shared universe, we cannot wait to show you all the stories we can tell with the richness of the world and the sheer amount of characters that an RPG entails.
