March 2025

OUR 59TH YEAR

THE LATE FEBRUARY GAMES are still flooding into the warehouse, but here in our offices and libraries, we're already looking ahead to March. And let me tell you, the March lineup has me on high alert. Care Bears! MLB The Show 25! Assassin's Creed Shadows! Five Nights at Freddy's! My spring golf plans have officially evaporated. It's shaping up to be a busy, exciting month.

Speaking of busy, I've been busy here at Thomas Klise/Crimson Multimedia for nearly 36 years. (I had to check LinkedIn for that stat—wow, that gives me pause.) One of the things I love most about our small company is how we're able to put customer service first. It's something I'm truly proud of. For example, some of you expressed a preference for our original Switch Game Holders (more flexible!) over the newer injection-molded version (more sturdy!). We heard you loud and clear. We have ramped up production and will soon be offering both versions on our website.

We're still working away on the new website. The developers are now linking ERP accounts with website users. If your library orders via spreadsheet or PO, your login credentials should still work. If you have an issue, please get in touch.

With all that's happening in our world right now, I feel that our libraries are going to be more important than ever. They serve as community hubs, providers of valuable resources, and trusted sources of information. I'm proud to be a tangential part of the library community.

Oh, and did I mention I'm taking tap dancing lessons? Any port in a storm, right? It's good to be busy!
